参考范文

Last term, I received a shock when I got my maths exam back — my score was much lower than I had expected. I stared at the paper and could not believe it.

I felt so upset that I almost gave up maths. Luckily, my teacher talked to me after class and encouraged me to try again. Together we found my weak points, and I made a detailed study plan. Step by step, I practised every evening.

When the next exam came, my grade improved greatly. Now I understand that setbacks are not the end — they are the beginning of growth.
