中考英语完形填空：地铁里的老人

完形填空原文

That morning, I was in a hurry to get to school. The subway was crowded as usual. I pushed through the people and found a seat. Just as I sat down, I noticed an old man standing nearby. He held a heavy bag in one hand and 1 to a pole with the other. His face looked tired.

I knew I should offer my seat. But I was so 2. I had stayed up late studying the night before. "Someone else will do it," I thought, and I looked down at my phone.

A few minutes passed. The old man was still standing. Nobody seemed to 3 him. I felt uncomfortable. Then I remembered what my grandma once said: "A small kind act can make a big 4."

I stood up and touched the old man's arm. "Please take my seat," I said.

He looked surprised, then smiled. "Thank you, young man. That's very 5 of you."

As he sat down, I saw relief on his face. He put his bag on the floor and said, "I'm going to visit my granddaughter. She's in hospital. I bring her food every day."

His words made me feel both sad and proud. I was glad I had made the right 6.

The rest of the journey, I stood by the door. It wasn't easy, but I didn't mind. When I got off the train, the old man waved at me and said, "Good luck with your 7!"

That simple moment stayed with me all day. I realized that being kind doesn't 8 much time or effort. Sometimes, it just means giving up something small — like a seat — for someone who 9 it more.

Since then, I have tried to be more careful about the people around me. On buses and subways, I often look for those who might need a seat. A little kindness can 10 someone's day, and it makes me feel better too.
