中考英语完形填空：敬老院的歌声

完形填空原文

Last Saturday, our class went to a nursing home to 1 the elderly. We had prepared some songs and small gifts. When we arrived, we saw many old people sitting in the garden, some in wheelchairs and others on benches. Their eyes lit up when they 2 us.

We began by singing some old songs that our teacher had 3 for us. At first, we sang softly, feeling a little shy. But when we saw the smiles on their faces, we became more 4. One grandmother even stood up and 5 her hands to the music. Soon, everyone was clapping together. The 6 in the air was warm and joyful.

After the performance, we sat down to chat with the elderly. An old man told us stories about his youth. He said that our visit had made him feel young again. His words made us 7 that a simple act of kindness could mean so much.

Before we left, we gave each person a handmade card. One grandmother held my hand and said, "Thank you for 8 your time with us. You've brought sunshine into our lives." I felt tears in my eyes. That day, I learned that 9 others doesn't always require grand actions. Sometimes, a song and a smile are 10.
