中考英语完形填空：晨跑时遇见的小猫

完形填空原文

Every morning, I go jogging in the park near my home. One day, as I was running along the path, I heard a weak 1 coming from behind some bushes. I stopped and went to look. There I found a small cat. It was thin and dirty, and one of its legs seemed 2.

I didn't know what to do. I had never had a pet before. But I couldn't just 3 it there. I gently picked up the cat and brought it home. My mother was surprised when she saw it. "We need to take it to the 4," she said.

The vet told us that the cat was about two months old and had a minor leg injury. With proper care, it would 5 soon. My mother agreed to let me keep the cat until we found its owner. We put up "Found Cat" notices in the neighborhood, but nobody 6.

Weeks passed. The cat, which I named Miao Miao, grew stronger and more playful. It would wait for me at the door every morning and follow me around the house. Gradually, our family grew 7 to the little creature. When no one came to claim it, we decided to adopt it officially.

That morning run 8 my life. It taught me that sometimes we meet those who need help when we least expect it. A small act of kindness can 9 a big difference. Now Miao Miao is not just a pet—she is a 10 of our family.
