中考英语完形填空：放学后的自行车

完形填空原文

My bicycle has been with me since I entered middle school. Every afternoon when the last class 1, I walk to the parking area and find my blue bike. Riding home through the streets has become the favorite part of my day.

The 2 from school to my home is not very long—about twenty minutes. But during those twenty minutes, I feel completely free. The wind blows through my hair, and I can see the sky changing from blue to orange as the sun 3. Sometimes I pass by the old tree on Green Street. I have watched its leaves turn from green to yellow, then fall, and then grow again. The bicycle has helped me 4 the seasons.

One rainy afternoon, my bike had a flat tire. I didn't know what to do. A senior student from our school stopped and asked if I needed 5. He helped me push the bike to a repair shop nearby. I was grateful and asked for his name. He just smiled and said, "We're all 6 here. Help each other." From that day on, I have tried to help others when I can, just like he did.

My bicycle has also brought me closer to my father. On weekends, we often ride together to the park. We talk about school, life, and sometimes nothing 7 at all. Those peaceful rides have created our best father-son moments. I realize that the best conversations don't always happen at the dinner table—they can happen anywhere, 8 on a simple bike ride.

I know that one day I will outgrow this bicycle and get a new one. But I will never 9 the feeling of freedom it gave me, or the lessons about kindness and family that I learned along the way. My bicycle is not just a 10 of transportation—it is a part of my growth story.
