参考范文

How to Be a Good Listener

There's a saying: we have two ears and one mouth — we should listen twice as much as we speak. I didn't understand this until a friend came to me crying one day. I wanted to give advice right away, but she said, "I just needed someone to listen." That moment taught me that sometimes people need to be heard, not fixed.

To be a good listener, I've learned to do a few things. First, keep eye contact and put away my phone — it shows I'm fully present. Second, don't interrupt. Let the speaker finish their thought before I respond. Third, ask questions like "How did that make you feel?" instead of jumping in with solutions. Finally, nod or say "I see" at the right moment — a small response can make the speaker feel supported.

Through listening, I've found that my friends open up more. They trust me with their worries and joys. I've also learned to put myself in others' shoes and see the world from different angles. Listening is the first step to understanding — and understanding is the beginning of real connection.

全文翻译

如何做一个好的倾听者

有句话说：我们有两只耳朵一张嘴——我们应该少说多听。我以前不懂这句话，直到有一天一个朋友哭着来找我。我立刻想给建议，但她说："我只是需要有人听我说。"那一刻让我明白，有时候人们需要的是被倾听，而不是被"修理"。

要成为一个好的倾听者，我学会了做几件事。首先，保持眼神接触，收起手机——这表明我全身心在场。其次，不要打断。让对方说完再回应。第三，问"你当时有什么感受？"这样的问题，而不是急着给解决方案。最后，在适当的时刻点头或者说"我懂"——一个小小的回应就能让对方感到被支持。

通过倾听，我发现朋友们更愿意向我敞开心扉。他们放心地把烦恼和快乐告诉我。我也学会了换位思考，从不同的角度看世界。倾听是理解的第一步——而理解是真正连接的开始。
