中考英语完形填空：老照片的故事

完形填空原文

One Sunday afternoon, Xiao Ran was cleaning her grandmother's old wooden cabinet. Behind a pile of clothes, she found a small photo album covered with dust. She opened it 1 and saw dozens of black-and-white photos.

One photo caught her 2. In it, a young woman stood in front of a small village school, surrounded by a group of children. The woman wore a simple dress and had a bright smile. Xiao Ran didn't 3 her at first. Then she looked more carefully and gasped — it was her grandmother!

"Grandma, is this you?" Xiao Ran asked, holding up the photo. Grandma put on her glasses and looked at it. A 4 smile spread across her face. "Yes, that was me. I was a teacher in a mountain village when I was young."

Grandma sat down and began to 5 her story. Fifty years ago, she had left the city to teach in a poor village where there were no proper roads, no electricity, and only one small 6. Most villagers couldn't read or write. Grandma taught the children during the day and taught the adults at night. The work was 7, but she never complained.

"Why did you go there?" Xiao Ran asked. Grandma 8 for a moment and then said, "Because those children needed someone to open a door for them — a door to knowledge and a 9 future."

Xiao Ran looked at the old photo again. The children's eyes were shining with hope. She suddenly understood why Grandma always told her to study hard and to be kind to others.

That evening, Xiao Ran carefully placed the album back in the cabinet. She knew that these old photos held something truly 10 — they held the story of a life spent helping others.
