But Grandpa Wang was a great talker. He told stories about his life as a young soldier, the places he had 6, and the friends he had made along the way. His voice was weak, but his eyes shone with energy. Tang Rui listened carefully and forgot all about his video games.

After the walk, Grandpa Wang held Tang Rui's hand and said, "Thank you, young man. You have no idea how 7 it is to have someone to talk to." Tang Rui suddenly felt a lump in his throat. He realized that many old people here were not sick — they were just 8.
