中考英语完形填空：收养流浪小猫

完形填空原文

One rainy evening, I heard a strange sound outside our front door. When I opened it, I found a tiny kitten sitting on the doorstep. It was wet and 1, looking up at me with big round eyes. My heart melted immediately.

I brought the kitten inside and wrapped it in a warm towel. Mom came over and said, "It must be a stray. Someone probably 2 it." The kitten was so small that it could fit in my two hands. I gave it some warm milk, and it drank it 3.

The next morning, I asked my parents if we could keep the kitten. Dad was not sure at first because he thought pets were a big 4. But when the kitten rubbed its head against Dad's hand, he could not say no. "Fine," he said with a smile. "But you have to take care of it 5."

I named the kitten Mimi and took her to the vet for a checkup. The doctor said she was about two months old and was 6 healthy. He gave her a vaccine and told me what kind of food to buy. I listened carefully and took 7 in a small notebook.

Over the following weeks, Mimi grew quickly. She loved to chase a small ball around the living room and hide behind the 8. Every night, she would curl up beside me and purr softly. The sound always made me feel peaceful and relaxed.

Having a pet taught me a lot about responsibility. I had to 9 her regularly, clean her space, and play with her every day. Sometimes it was tiring, but seeing her happy face made everything 10. Mimi is not just a pet—she is a member of our family now.
