中考英语完形填空：参加英语听写比赛

完形填空原文

Last month, our English teacher told us about a school dictation contest. At first, I felt 1 because I often made spelling mistakes in class. However, my teacher said, "Practice makes perfect. You should 2 yourself a chance." Her words made me think twice.

Every evening after dinner, I spent twenty minutes 3 new words from our textbook. I also listened to short recordings and wrote down what I heard. Sometimes I got tired, 4 I didn't give up. My best friend Lily practiced with me. We checked each other's lists and 5 mistakes together.

On the day of the contest, my heart beat fast. When the judge read the first word, I took a deep breath and wrote 6. The room was quiet except for the sound of pens. After ten rounds, only eight students were left. I couldn't believe I was still 7!

In the final round, I spelled a long word wrong and came third. I felt a little sad, 8 I was proud of my progress. My teacher smiled and said, "You have learned something more important 9 a prize—confidence and persistence." Now I know that 10 I try my best, I can improve step by step.
