06-28 第2篇

阅读理解（议论文）

① Should Students Eat Lunch at School?

⑤ My opinion: I think eating lunch at school is a better choice for most students. It is safe, saves time, and helps students form good eating habits. Of course, schools should try to make the food taste better and provide more choices. If students and parents work with the school, we can make school lunch a healthy and enjoyable part of the school day.
