参考范文

A Lesson from Failure

Nobody is perfect, and I'd like to share a failure that taught me an important lesson.

Last semester, I spent weeks preparing for the school maths competition. I was confident I could win a prize. However, when the results came out, I didn't even make it to the top thirty. I felt as if the whole world had fallen apart. I was so disappointed that I didn't want to talk to anyone.

My maths teacher noticed my sadness and told me, "Don't be afraid of failure. It shows you where you need to improve." It was then that I realized failure is not the end — it's a new beginning. I started reviewing my mistakes carefully and practicing harder.

Now I understand that failure doesn't define us — how we respond to it does.

全文翻译

从失败中学到的一课

没有人是完美的，我想分享一次教会了我重要一课的失败。

上学期，我花了好几周准备学校数学竞赛。我自信满满，觉得一定能获奖。然而成绩出来时，我连前三十名都没进。我感觉整个世界都崩塌了。我太失望了，不想和任何人说话。

数学老师注意到了我的沮丧，对我说："不要害怕失败。它让你知道需要改进的地方。"正是那时我意识到，失败不是终点——而是一个新的开始。我开始认真复盘错误，更加努力地练习。

现在我明白了，失败不能定义我们——我们如何应对它才能。
