完形填空原文

Last weekend, my aunt came to visit us. She is good at making handmade sachets. When I saw the beautiful sachets she had made, I asked her to 1 me how to make one. She agreed with a smile.

First, we needed to prepare some 2: cloth, thread, dried flowers, and a little cotton. My aunt said we could use any color of cloth we liked. I chose a piece of red cloth because it looked warm and traditional.

We cut the cloth into two small squares of the same 3. Then we sewed three sides together, leaving one side open. I had never sewn before, so my stitches were not very neat. My aunt was patient and told me that 4 makes perfect. I tried again and again until I did it better.

Next, we filled the small bag with dried flowers and a little cotton. The flowers had a sweet 5. My aunt said that sachets could keep the smell for a long time. We could put them in our drawers or hang them in our rooms.

After filling, we 6 the last side. My sachet was finally ready! It wasn't as perfect as my aunt's, but I was 7 of it. I gave it to my mother as a gift. She was so happy that she put it in her handbag right away.

Making sachets is a traditional Chinese 8. Through this activity, I learned not only a skill but also something about our culture. I hope to make more sachets for my friends and family. Maybe I can 9 different shapes and colors next time. It was a meaningful and 10 afternoon.
