中考英语完形填空：学做红薯饼

完形填空原文

Yesterday was a cold autumn day. My grandmother said she would teach me how to make sweet potato cakes. I was 1 to learn because I love eating them.

First, we went to the market and bought some fresh sweet potatoes. Grandma said we should choose the ones that feel 2 and have smooth skin. We picked five big ones and went home.

We washed the sweet potatoes and then boiled them in water. After about twenty minutes, they became very 3. Grandma showed me how to peel off the skin and mash them into a smooth paste. I used a fork to do it, and it was easier than I had 4.

Next, we added some flour, sugar, and a little milk to the paste. Grandma mixed everything together and made it into a soft dough. Then she taught me to 5 the dough into small balls and press them flat. I made ten small cakes, and each one was round like a little moon.

We put some oil in a pan and 6 it. When the oil was hot, we carefully put the cakes in. Grandma reminded me to turn them over so that 7 sides could become golden. The kitchen was filled with a wonderful smell.

A few minutes later, the sweet potato cakes were 8. I put them on a plate and tasted one. It was crispy outside and soft inside—just 9! My family all enjoyed them.

Grandma smiled and said, "Cooking is like learning. You need patience and 10." I agreed and decided to learn more recipes from her.
