中考英语完形填空：帮助社区老人打扫卫生

完形填空原文

Last Sunday, our class organized a volunteer activity. We went to a community center to help some elderly people 1 their rooms. I was happy to be part of this meaningful event.

When we arrived, an old lady named Grandma Wang greeted us warmly. She lived 2 because her children worked in another city. Her room was not very messy, but she couldn't reach the high places to clean them.

I helped Grandma Wang wipe the windows. My friend Li Ming swept the 3 while another classmate organized the books on the shelf. We worked together and finished everything in about one hour. The room looked much 4 than before.

After cleaning, Grandma Wang made us some tea and told us stories about her 5. She used to be a teacher at a primary school. She taught there for over thirty years. Her stories were very interesting, and we listened 6.

Before we left, Grandma Wang held my hand and said, "Thank you so much. Your visit makes me feel less 7." I was deeply moved by her words. I realized that sometimes older people don't just need a clean room—they also need 8.

On our way back to school, we talked about what we had experienced. Everyone agreed that helping others brings us true 9. I decided to visit the community center more often and spend time with the elderly people there.

Volunteering taught me an important 10: giving is even better than receiving.
