中考英语完形填空：学做花生酥

完形填空原文

Last weekend, my grandma taught me how to make peanut cookies, a traditional Chinese snack. She said she learned it from her mother when she was young. I was very 1 to learn this skill because I love the crispy and sweet taste of peanut cookies.

First, we prepared the ingredients: flour, sugar, butter, and roasted peanuts. Grandma said the peanuts must be 2 well before we use them, or the cookies would not taste good. I helped crush the peanuts into small pieces with a rolling pin. Then we mixed the butter and sugar together until they became soft and smooth.

Next, we added the flour and peanut pieces to the mixture. We had to 3 everything well with our hands. Grandma showed me how to shape the dough into small round balls and then press them flat with a fork. I made some too thick at first, but Grandma said they needed to be 4 so they could cook evenly.

We placed the cookies on a baking tray and put them in the oven. The whole house soon smelled 5. We waited for about fifteen minutes. When Grandma took them out, they were golden and looked delicious. I couldn't wait to try one. The first bite was crunchy and the peanut flavor was wonderful. I felt so 6 that I had made them myself.

I packed some cookies in a nice box to give to my neighbors. They all said the cookies tasted 7 and asked for the recipe. Grandma was proud of me and said I could 8 her make more traditional snacks in the future. Making peanut cookies taught me that with patience and care, we can create something both tasty and meaningful. I plan to make 9 for the Spring Festival and share them with my relatives. Every time I eat peanut cookies now, I will 10 my grandma and our happy time in the kitchen.
