中考英语完形填空：班级组织冬日读书分享活动

完形填空原文

Our Chinese teacher believes that reading is like a warm fire in winter—it gives light and warmth to our minds. So she organized a "Winter Reading Sharing" event for our class last Thursday afternoon.

Each student had to choose a 1 they had read recently and share it with the class. We had one week to prepare. I chose "The Old Man and the Sea" because the story deeply 2 me. I prepared a short speech and made a poster with some key quotes from the book.

When the event began, the first student to share was Li Na. She talked about a science fiction novel about space travel. Her presentation was so 3 that everyone listened carefully. She even brought a model spaceship she had made herself to show us.

Then it was my turn. I walked to the front of the classroom with my poster. I told my classmates about the old fisherman Santiago and his 4 to catch a big fish. I explained that the book taught me to never give up, even when things seem 5. Some classmates said they wanted to read the book after hearing my sharing.

The most surprising presentation came from Zhang Wei. He shared a book of Chinese poems. Most of us thought poetry was 6, but Zhang Wei read the poems with such feeling that we were all moved. He showed us that poems can express deep emotions in just a few 7.

After everyone finished, our teacher asked us to 8 for the best presentation. Li Na won first place, but we all felt like winners. Our teacher said, "Books open doors to different 9. The more you read, the wider your view becomes."

This event made me realize that every book has something valuable to 10. I have already started making a reading list for the winter holiday.
