中考英语完形填空：给山区小朋友寄冬衣

完形填空原文

Last week, our school started a charity drive called "Warm Winter, Warm Hearts." The goal was to collect winter clothes and send them to children in mountain areas who do not have enough warm clothes to 1 the cold season.

Our headteacher showed us some photos of the mountain school. The children there wore thin clothes even in December. Some of them did not even have proper 2. The photos made everyone feel sad, and we all wanted to help.

Each class set up a collection box. Students could bring old but clean jackets, sweaters, scarves, and gloves. I went home and told my parents about the 3. My mother helped me pick out three jackets that I had outgrown. She washed and ironed them carefully. My father also found a warm down vest that was still in good 4.

The next day, I brought the clothes to school. I was surprised to see how many items our classmates had already 5. The collection box was almost full. Some students even brought new clothes they had bought with their own pocket money. Their 6 moved everyone deeply.

Our class also decided to write personal letters to the children. I wrote a short letter saying, "Dear friend, I hope this jacket keeps you warm. 7 is temporary, but kindness lasts forever. Keep studying hard and never give up on your dreams." I folded the letter and put it in the jacket pocket.

After a week, all the boxes were packed and sent to the mountain school by a delivery service. Two weeks later, we received a thank-you video from the children. They were wearing our clothes and 8 happily at the camera. One little girl held up my letter and said, "Thank you, big brother. I feel very warm."

Watching that video, I felt a warm glow in my 9. Helping others is not about how much you give, but about the love you put into it. I learned that even small acts of 10 can make a big difference in someone's life.
