中考英语完形填空：学做手工蜡烛

完形填空原文

During the winter holiday, I decided to learn how to make handmade candles. My sister's birthday was coming and I wanted to 1 her a special gift. I thought a candle made by myself would show how much I care.

I searched online and found a simple 2. First, I needed wax, a wick, a container, and some fragrance. Mom took me to the supermarket to buy these materials. The shop assistant was very 3 and helped us choose the right kind of wax for beginners.

Back at home, I prepared everything on the kitchen table. I cut the wax into small pieces and put them in a pot. As the wax 4, I stirred it slowly. I had to be patient because it took about fifteen minutes. Then I added a few drops of rose fragrance—my sister's 5 smell.

I tied the wick to a pencil and placed it across the top of a glass jar. Carefully, I 6 the melted wax into the jar. I left it to cool for two hours. When I came back, the candle looked perfect! I felt so 7 of myself.

On my sister's birthday, I gave her the candle. She was very 8 and said it was the best gift she had ever gotten. She lit it that evening, and the warm light filled the room. The sweet smell of roses made us both 9.

Making that candle taught me that the best gifts don't have to be expensive. What matters is the 10 and love we put into them.
