中考英语完形填空：志愿者活动日

完形填空原文

Last Saturday, our school organized a volunteer activity at a community center. We would help 1 people and clean the reading room. I had never done volunteer work before, so I was a little nervous.

When we arrived, an old man was sitting alone in the garden. I walked over and said hello. At first, he seemed 2, but when I asked about his family, he began to talk. He told me that his children worked in other cities and rarely 3 home. "I'm glad you came to talk to me," he said. "I feel less lonely now."

In the afternoon, we cleaned the reading room. We 4 the books, wiped the tables, and swept the floor. It was tiring work, but when we saw the clean and tidy room, we felt 5. A staff member said, "Thank you, students. Your help means a lot to us." Her words made us realize that small actions can make a big 6.

On the bus ride back to school, I thought about the day. I had thought volunteer work would be 7, but I was wrong. It was meaningful. Helping others made me feel useful. I learned that we don't need to do great things to 8 the world. We can start with small acts of 9. From that day on, I decided to take part in more volunteer 10 in the future.
