中考英语完形填空：图书馆的借书卡

完形填空原文

In our school library, every student has a small plastic card — the library card. With it, we can 1 as many as three books at a time. When I first got mine in Grade 7, I was excited. I had never had a card with my own name on it before.

The card is simple: it shows my photo, name and class. But it 2 me something important — that I have the right to borrow knowledge. Every time I 3 a book from the shelf, I feel like I am opening a door to a new world. The librarian stamps the return date on a slip inside each book. I must bring the book back before that date, or I will have to 4 a small fine.

Once I forgot to return a book on time. I felt so 5 when I walked to the library, thinking about the fine. The librarian smiled and said, "It's okay. Just remember next time." Her kindness made me want to be more 6. From then on, I always put the return dates in my phone calendar.

The library card has taught me about 7. When we borrow, we promise to return. When we 8 the book, someone else can enjoy it. It is a small circle of trust between the library and every student. My card has become a little worn after two years, but I still 9 it. It reminds me that learning never stops, and that a simple card can 10 us to countless stories and ideas.
