中考英语完形填空：走廊里的饮水机

完形填空原文

At the end of our school hallway stands a simple drinking fountain. It has been there since I entered this school three years ago. Every day, hundreds of students 1 by it — some stop for a quick drink, others just walk past. To most people, it is nothing 2. But to me, it holds special memories.

In Grade 7, I was shy and had few friends. One noon, I was waiting in line at the fountain when a girl behind me said, "Your water bottle is really cute!" I turned around, 3. It was the first time someone had talked to me so friendly. We started chatting and soon became good friends. That small 4 at the fountain changed my school life.

Since then, the fountain has become a place where I meet my friends. We often gather there between classes, drinking water and sharing stories. Sometimes we 5 about our homework, sometimes we laugh about funny things that happened in class. The fountain has witnessed our friendship growing 6.

On hot summer days, the cool water from the fountain feels like a small gift. On busy exam days, a short break there helps me 7 and think clearly. The fountain never asks for anything. It just stands there, 8 water to whoever needs it.

I will graduate soon and leave this school. But I will always remember the fountain in the hallway. It taught me that 9 things in life often bring the greatest joy. A kind word, a cool drink, or a moment with friends — these are what make our days 10. Thank you, little fountain.
