中考英语完形填空：美术课的调色板

完形填空原文

In our art class, each student has a small wooden palette for mixing colors. At first, I thought it was just a 1 tool. But as I started to paint, I found that the palette could create magic. When I mixed blue and yellow, I got green. When I added a little red, the color 2 warmer. I was amazed by how many colors could come from just a few basic ones.

Our art teacher, Mr. Li, always told us, "Don't be afraid to try. Every great painting 3 with a single color on the palette." I remember one rainy afternoon. I wanted to draw the sky after the rain, but I didn't know which colors to use. Mr. Li stood beside me and said, "Look at the sky. What do you see?" I looked 4 the window and said, "Gray, but also a little blue." He smiled and said, "Then mix them on your palette. Trust your eyes."

From that day on, I began to see colors differently. The world became more 5. I noticed the golden light in the morning, the soft pink of the evening sky, and even the different greens of the leaves. My palette was no longer just a tool—it became my way of 6 the world.

Now when I feel stressed before exams, I sometimes sit down with my palette and paint. The quiet time helps me 7. I have learned that life is like mixing colors. Sometimes we get the exact color we want; sometimes we get something 8, but still beautiful. The important thing is to keep trying and never 9 the joy of creating something with our own hands.

I will always thank that small palette in our art class. It taught me that creativity is not about being perfect, but about being 10 to explore and discover.
