中考英语完形填空：邻居老爷爷的故事

完形填空原文

Mr. Wang is our next-door neighbor. He is over seventy years old, but he is always full of energy. Every morning, I see him watering the plants in his small garden. He has lived in this neighborhood for more than fifty years and knows almost everyone. When my family first moved here, he came to 1 us with a basket of fresh vegetables from his garden. His kindness made us feel welcome right away.

Mr. Wang loves to tell stories. He often 2 about his youth — how he worked on a farm, studied at night, and eventually became a teacher. His stories are not only interesting but also full of life lessons. He always says, "Hard work never 3 anyone." I have learned a lot from his words. Whenever I feel lazy or want to give up, I remember his stories and find the 4 to keep going.

Last month, Mr. Wang was ill and had to stay in hospital for a week. Many neighbors went to 5 him. When he came back home, we organized a small party to celebrate his recovery. He was so moved that his eyes became 6. He said we were like his family. From that day on, I have understood that a good neighbor is more than someone who lives nearby — they can be a true friend and a wise 7.

I feel lucky to have Mr. Wang as my neighbor. He has taught me the importance of being kind to others and never losing hope. I hope he will stay 8 and happy for many more years. Maybe one day, I can also become someone who 9 warmth and wisdom to the people around me, just like Mr. Wang does. That is the best way to 10 him for everything he has given us.
