中考英语完形填空：搬新家

完形填空原文

Last month, my family moved to a new house. It was in a different part of the city, closer to my school. I had lived in our old home for twelve years, so I felt 1 about leaving. I would miss the big tree in the garden where I used to play, and the neighbours who always said hello.

On the moving day, we got up early. The movers came with a truck and carried all our 2 out of the old house. I helped pack my books and toys into boxes. Mum said we had to be careful with the fragile things. I wrapped my favourite mug in newspaper and put it in a box marked "Handle with 3."

The new house was bigger and had more rooms. My bedroom had a large window that faced the garden. I could see a small pond and some trees from my window. "You can put your desk here by the window," Dad said. "The natural 4 will be good for your eyes when you study." I liked that idea.

The first few nights in the new house felt strange. I lay in bed and heard unfamiliar sounds. The floor creaked sometimes. I could not 5 as well as before. Mum said it was normal. "It takes time to feel at home in a new place," she said. "Give yourself a week or two."

After two weeks, I began to 6 the new house. I made friends with the boy next door. We played basketball in his garden. I also found a new route to school — it was only a ten-minute walk. The old house was a forty-minute bus ride away. What a 7!

One weekend, we invited our old neighbours to visit. They came and had dinner with us. We showed them around the new house. They said it was lovely. I realised that home is not just a 8. It is the people we love and the memories we carry with us. We can make new memories in the new house, but we will always 9 the old ones. Moving taught me that change can be good, and we can learn to adapt and find 10 wherever we go.
