中考英语完形填空：学做蛋糕

完形填空原文

My sister's birthday was coming, and I wanted to do something 1 for her. I decided to bake a cake all by myself. The only problem was that I had never baked anything before.

I searched online for a simple chocolate cake recipe. The ingredients were easy to find: flour, sugar, eggs, butter, cocoa powder, and milk. I wrote everything down on a 2 and went to the supermarket. When I got home, I put on an apron and started working.

First, I mixed the dry ingredients together in a big bowl. Then I added the eggs and milk. The recipe said to stir the mixture 3 until it was smooth. I stirred and stirred, but there were still lumps everywhere. It was harder than I had 4. I added a little more milk and kept stirring. Finally, the mixture looked right.

I poured the batter into a pan and put it in the oven. The recipe said to bake it at 180 degrees for thirty 5. While waiting, I started making the frosting with butter, sugar, and cocoa powder. This part was actually quite 6 because I just had to mix everything together.

When the timer went off, I carefully took the cake out of the oven. It smelled wonderful, but it didn't look 7. The top was a bit uneven and one side was higher than the other. I was a little disappointed, but I covered it with the chocolate frosting and it looked much 8.

On my sister's birthday, I brought out the cake with candles. She was so surprised and 9 that she gave me a huge hug. "You made this yourself?" she asked. "It's the most special cake I've ever had!" We all had a piece, and everyone said it was delicious.

That experience taught me that it's okay if things are not 10. What matters most is the love and effort you put into them.
