中考英语完形填空：学做风筝

完形填空原文

One sunny afternoon during the summer holiday, my uncle came to visit us. He brought some bamboo sticks, colourful paper, and string. "Let me teach you how to make a kite," he said with a big smile. I was 1 because I had always wanted to fly a kite but never knew how to make one.

Uncle first showed me how to 2 the bamboo sticks into a cross shape. He used string to tie them tightly at the centre. "The frame must be strong," he explained, "or the kite will break when the wind blows." I watched carefully and tried to remember every step.

Next, we laid the frame on a large piece of red paper. Uncle drew a diamond shape around it and cut it out with scissors. Then he showed me how to 3 the paper onto the frame using glue. I helped him smooth out the wrinkles. It was harder than it looked because the paper was thin and tore 4.

After the body was done, Uncle cut long strips of green paper for the tail. "The tail helps the kite stay 5 in the air," he said. "Without it, the kite will spin and crash." We attached three strips to the bottom of the kite. It looked beautiful — red and green, just like a big butterfly.

Finally, we tied a long string to the centre of the frame. Uncle said the angle of the string was very 6. If it was too high, the kite would not catch the wind. If it was too low, it would dive into the ground.

We took our kite to the park near our home. The wind was gentle and perfect for flying. Uncle held the kite while I ran forward with the string. On my first try, the kite rose a little and then fell. I was 7, but Uncle encouraged me to try again. On the third attempt, the kite finally caught the wind and soared into the sky. I shouted with 8 as I watched it dance above the trees.

That evening, I hung the kite on my bedroom wall. Every time I looked at it, I remembered the fun afternoon with my uncle. Making things with your own hands gives you a special sense of 9. I decided to learn to make other things too — maybe a paper lantern or a wooden toy.

Uncle left the next day, but the kite stayed with me. It was more than just a toy. It was a 10 of the time we spent together and the joy of creating something from nothing.
