中考英语完形填空：学校图书馆

完形填空原文

Our school library is my favourite place on campus. It is a three-storey building with large windows that let in plenty of natural 1. Every time I step inside, I feel a sense of peace and excitement — peace because it is so quiet, and excitement because of all the books waiting to be read.

The library has over twenty thousand books, covering every subject you can imagine. The first floor is for textbooks and reference materials. Students go there when they need to look up information for their homework or 2. The second floor has novels, short stories and poetry collections. This is where I spend most of my time. The third floor has magazines, newspapers and a computer room where students can search for information 3.

Mrs. Li, our librarian, is a kind woman in her fifties. She knows almost every book in the library and can always recommend the 4 one for you. When I told her I liked adventure stories, she introduced me to "Treasure Island" and "Robinson Crusoe." Both books became my favourites. She also started a "Book of the Month" programme, where she displays one recommended book each month with a short 5.

Last year, I volunteered to help in the library after school. My job was to return books to the correct shelves and help other students 6 what they were looking for. It was not always easy — sometimes students gave me only a vague description, like "a book with a blue cover about animals." But I enjoyed the challenge. It felt like solving a 7.

Through volunteering, I discovered that many students did not visit the library regularly. Some said they were too 8 with homework. Others said they preferred watching videos to reading books. I found this sad because books offer something that videos cannot — they make you use your imagination and think 9.

To encourage more students to read, our library held a reading challenge last semester. Students who read at least five books in a month received a certificate and a small prize. The response was amazing — over two hundred students participated. Many of them told me afterwards that they had not realised how enjoyable reading could be.

I believe that a good library is the 10 of a school. It is where knowledge lives and where minds grow. I hope more students will discover the joy of reading, just as I did.
