中考英语完形填空：学校心理健康讲座

完形填空原文

Last Tuesday afternoon, our school held a mental health lecture in the school hall. A psychologist from the city came to 1 with us about how to deal with stress and emotions. All students from Grade 8 and 9 were invited to 2.

The psychologist, Mr. Chen, started by asking us a question: "Do you ever feel worried or 3 before exams?" Many hands went up. He smiled and said that it was completely normal. Then he taught us some simple 4 to relax, such as taking deep breaths and listening to soft music.

He also talked about the importance of 5. "When you have problems, don't keep them to yourself," he said. "Talk to your parents, teachers or friends. Sharing your feelings can make you feel much 6." His words really made me think about my own life.

During the Q&A session, I 7 up my hand and asked how to handle peer pressure. Mr. Chen gave me helpful advice. He said we should learn to say "no" when necessary and always stay true to 8. After the lecture, I felt more confident about facing challenges.

The school will hold such lectures 9 every term from now on. I believe this will help us grow both academically and 10. Mental health is as important as physical health!
