中考英语完形填空：学打羽毛球

完形填空原文

My friend Wang Fang is good at badminton. She invited me to play with her every weekend. I agreed, though I had 1 played badminton before. I thought it would be easy — you just hit the shuttlecock, right?

How wrong I was! At the first lesson, I could hardly hit the shuttlecock. It went in every 2 except the right one. Wang Fang was very patient. She taught me how to hold the racket correctly and how to 3 my eyes on the shuttlecock. "Don't move your body too much. Use your 4, not your whole arm," she said.

I practiced hard. Every time I 5 a shot, I felt a little more confident. Slowly, I learned to serve and return the shuttlecock. One day, we had a real match. I lost, of course, but I 6 15 points! Wang Fang said that was great progress for a beginner.

Now I really 7 playing badminton. It is not only good exercise but also helps me relax after studying. I have made a plan to practice at 8 three times a week. I believe with more practice, I will get better. Maybe one day I can even 9 Wang Fang in a match! That is my 10.
