中考英语完形填空：参加读书分享会

完形填空原文

Our school library holds a reading sharing activity every month. Last week, I was chosen to represent our class and share my favourite book. I felt both nervous and 1, because I had never spoken in front of so many people before.

The book I chose was Charlotte's Web, a story about friendship between a pig and a spider. I had read it three times and I loved it. To prepare for the sharing, I made some notes about the main characters and the 2 of the story. I also marked my favourite paragraphs to read aloud.

On the day of the activity, about fifty students and several teachers gathered in the library. When my name was called, I walked to the front with my book in hand. My legs were shaking, but I took a deep breath and began to speak.

I introduced the book and explained why I liked it. "This book teaches us that true friendship can happen between anyone, even a pig and a spider," I said. "It also shows us the 3 of life — that we should appreciate every moment." Then I read a short passage. My voice was a bit 4 at first, but as I got into the story, I became more relaxed.

After I finished, several students raised their hands to ask questions. One girl asked, "What part of the book moved you the most?" I thought for a moment and said, "When Charlotte died. She gave everything for her friend. That made me 5 the meaning of sacrifice." The audience nodded. I felt that they understood what I meant.

Our librarian, Mrs. Chen, came up and praised my sharing. "You did a great job. Your passion for reading really 6 through," she said. She gave me a bookmark as a small gift. I was so happy that I could hardly believe it.

That experience encouraged me to read more and share more. I have 7 joined the school's reading club. Now I meet with other book lovers every Friday to discuss what we've read. We learn from each other and 8 our love of books.

Reading opens our minds and brings us to new worlds. Sharing our reading with others makes the experience even more 9. I would recommend every student to take part in such activities. You might discover that you 10 speaking about books more than you thought!
