中考英语完形填空：第一次坐高铁

完形填空原文

During the National Day holiday, my family planned to visit my uncle in another city. We decided to take the high-speed rail for the first time. I had only taken ordinary trains before, so I was very 1 about the experience.

We arrived at the railway station two hours before departure. The station was huge and modern. There were clear signs everywhere. We found our platform easily and waited for the train. When the white bullet train 2 into the station, I couldn't believe how smooth and quiet it was. It looked like a silver arrow.

We got on the train and found our seats. The carriage was clean and comfortable. The seats were much more 3 than those on ordinary trains. There was plenty of legroom. I put my bag on the overhead rack and sat down.

The train started to move. At first, I didn't even notice we were moving — it was so smooth! Soon we were 4 at over 300 kilometres per hour. I looked out of the window. The scenery flew by so fast that the trees and buildings became a blur. It was amazing and a little 5.

About an hour later, we arrived at our destination. The journey that used to take five hours by ordinary train now took only one hour. My father said, "The high-speed rail has 6 changed the way we travel in China. It's one of our country's great achievements."

During the trip, I also noticed that the train was very quiet. Passengers spoke softly or used earphones. Everyone tried to keep the 7 comfortable for others. I thought this was a good habit that we should all follow.

I enjoyed my first high-speed rail experience very much. It was fast, comfortable, and convenient. I hope to take the high-speed rail again when we travel. Perhaps next time we can go even 8 — to Beijing or Shanghai. The high-speed rail network in China connects so many cities. It has made our country feel much 9. I'm proud of our country's development and look forward to more 10 journeys in the future.
