Tomorrow will be the last day of my winter holiday. School starts the day after. I want to make full use of this special day and have a good 1 before I go back to class.

In the morning, I plan to wake up early and go for a jog in the park. Exercise helps me feel 2 and ready for the new term. After that, I will have a big breakfast with my family. Mother said she would make my favorite pancakes.

In the afternoon, I have two things to do. First, I need to finish 3 my schoolbag and check that all my books and stationery are ready. I don't want to forget anything on the first day. 4, I will meet my best friend Li Ming at the library. We want to borrow some new books together and chat about our holiday.

In the evening, our family will have dinner together. Father suggested we go out to a restaurant to 5 the end of the holiday. I think that's a great idea. After dinner, I will set my alarm clock and go to bed 6 so that I can get enough sleep for the first school day.

I know some of my classmates feel 7 when the holiday is about to end. But I try to think 8 — the new term means new lessons, new friends, and new chances to learn. I am actually looking forward to seeing my teachers and classmates again.
