12-23 第2篇

中考英语完形填空：学做炸年糕

完形填空原文

During the Spring Festival, my grandmother decided to teach me how to make fried rice cakes. I was very 1 because I had never tried cooking before.

First, we needed to prepare the 2. Grandma cut the rice cake into thin pieces. Then she told me to heat some oil in a pan. "Wait until the oil is hot," she said. "But don't let it get too 3, or the cakes will burn."

When the oil was ready, I carefully put the rice cake pieces into the pan. They made a 4 sound. I was a little scared, but Grandma smiled and said, "That's normal. Just turn them over when one side turns golden."

I used a spatula to 5 the pieces. Some of them stuck together at first. Grandma helped me separate them. "Be patient," she said. "Cooking takes 6."

After a few minutes, the rice cakes became crispy and golden. We added some salt and a little sugar. Grandma said the secret was to add the seasoning at the right 7. Finally, we put the fried rice cakes on a plate. They looked delicious and 8 good.

I took a bite. It was even better than I had 9. "Grandma, you're the best cook!" I said. She laughed and patted my head. "Next time, you can try to make it by 10. Practice makes perfect."
