05-28 第2篇

阅读理解（记叙文）

① It was a Monday afternoon. Zhang Ming, a junior high school student, was walking home after class. The sky turned dark quickly. Soon, heavy rain started to pour down. Zhang Ming had an umbrella, but the wind was so strong that he could hardly hold it. He ran towards a bus stop to take shelter (避雨).

② Under the roof of the bus stop, Zhang Ming saw an old lady standing alone. She had no umbrella. Her clothes were wet and she was shaking from the cold. She looked worried. Without hesitation (犹豫), he walked up to her.

③ "Grandma, please use my umbrella," Zhang Ming said. "I'll wait here with you until the bus comes." The old lady was surprised. "But you will get wet too, child," she said. Zhang Ming smiled. "I'm young and strong. You need it more than I do." He held the umbrella over her head and stood in the rain himself. The old lady's eyes turned red. She held his hand and said, "Thank you, good boy."

⑤ That night, Zhang Ming told his mother what had happened. His mother patted his shoulder and said, "I'm proud of you, Ming. A small act of kindness can make a big difference." Zhang Ming agreed. Helping a stranger in the rain was a small thing, but it was the right thing to do.

注释： shelter 避难所；hesitation 犹豫
