Staying Safe on the Internet

①The Internet brings us many good things. We can learn, make friends, and have fun online. But the Internet also has dangers. As students, we need to know how to stay safe. This is a topic every teenager should think about seriously.

②First, protect your personal information. Never share your real name, address, phone number, or school name with strangers online. Some people may pretend to be your age or your friend, but they might have bad intentions. If someone asks for your photo or personal details, say no and tell your parents.

③Second, be careful what you post. Everything you put on the Internet can stay there forever. A photo or a message you send today might be seen by others years later. Before you post, ask yourself: Would I be happy if my parents or teachers saw this? If the answer is no, do not post it.

④Third, do not believe everything you read online. Fake news and scams are everywhere. If something sounds too good to be true, it probably is. Check the source before you share. Never click on strange links or download files from people you do not know.

⑤The Internet is a useful tool when we use it wisely. Let us learn to enjoy its benefits while avoiding its risks. Your safety is in your own hands. Make smart choices, and the online world can be a safe place for you.
