阅读理解（记叙文） The Little Dog in the Rain

① Last Friday, it rained hard after school. Tom put on his raincoat and walked home slowly along the quiet street. He liked rainy days because the air smelled fresh, but he also watched his step so that he would not slip on the wet ground. His school bag felt a little heavy, yet he whistled a simple song to cheer himself up.

② Near a small park, he heard a weak sound like crying. He looked around and saw a little brown dog under a wooden bench. Its fur was wet and dirty, and it was shaking with cold. Tom’s heart beat faster. He slowly moved closer, spoke in a soft voice, and offered a piece of bread from his bag. The dog ate a little and then looked up at him with sad eyes. Tom waited patiently until the dog seemed to trust him a bit more.

③ Tom knew he could not leave the dog outside in the rain. He carried it carefully to a pet hospital two streets away. The vet checked the dog and said it was hungry but healthy. There was no name tag on its neck, so they could not find the owner at once. Tom paid for some dog food and asked the vet to keep the dog safe for one night. He also wrote down his own phone number just in case someone asked about a missing dog.

⑤ On Monday, Tom saw the woman walk the dog in the park. The dog wagged its tail happily. Tom smiled and felt proud. He learned that caring for a small life is not only kind but also a serious duty. Responsibility means doing the right thing even when it takes extra time and money. He told himself that he would always be ready to help again if a similar thing happened.
