Winter Mental Wellness Week — "A Warm Week Before the Cold Exams"
Mon 13 — Fri 17 December 2027

The last two weeks before final exams are the heaviest two weeks of the term, not only in homework but also in small, quiet worries. This winter, one week before exam day, our school is holding the first Winter Mental Wellness Week. The aim is simple: to make it easy for every student to talk, rest, slow down, and notice how she feels. No tests, no scores, no points. Just a few small warm doors opened each day.

🕑 The Day Rhythm

Daily	Time	Activity	Where
Every morning	08:00 — 08:05	"Three-Minute Quiet Start" — lights dim, one slow breath exercise	Form classroom
Every lunch	12:25 — 13:00	Warm Drink Corner (free ginger tea & warm water)	Library Floor 1 lobby
Every afternoon	15:50 — 16:20	"Step-and-Talk Walk" — voluntary 30-min circle around the courtyard	Main gate
Every evening	17:00 — 17:45	"Quiet Listening Room" — one-on-one booking with a counsellor	Room 110

📅 The Special Day-by-Day Theme

Mon 13 — "I Name It" Day

- Students take one small yellow card at the classroom door.
- Write one feeling you have felt this week (e.g. "nervous", "tired", "okay, but a bit lonely", "excited").
- No name on the card. Drop it into the wooden box near the stairs.
- At 16:00, the card wall opens in the corridor of Building B. You will see that you are not alone.

Tue 14 — "I Rest" Day

- A short "Rest Hour" is added to the timetable, 16:00 – 17:00: no new homework given today after lunch.
- Students may nap on the green cushions in the library reading corner (maximum 30 min per student).
- The school mini-app pauses all non-urgent homework messages in that hour.

Wed 15 — "I Move" Day

- Step-and-Talk Walk is doubled to 45 minutes (15:30 – 16:15).
- Students walk in pairs or small groups of three; speak softly about anything except exams.
- A warm lemon tea is waiting at the library door afterwards.

Thu 16 — "I Write" Day

- During the final 10 minutes of each subject class, the teacher offers a soft writing prompt — for example: "Write one small worry. Tear up the paper before you go home."
- No writing is collected, read or marked. The act of writing is the whole point.

Fri 17 — "I Give" Day

- At 15:00, students sit in class circles and each person, in turn, gives one small honest thank-you to another classmate (e.g. "Thank you for lending me your eraser on Monday").
- This takes about 20 minutes. No thank-you must be big or dramatic. A small one is best.

🚪 Private Support All Week

- Quiet Listening Room (Room 110) — book a 25-minute one-to-one session with Ms Wang (our school counsellor) on the school mini-app. Sessions are fully private.
- Form-Teacher Door-Open Hour — every form teacher will be in the form classroom 17:00 – 17:30 with the door literally open. Come with one question, one worry, or silence.
- Anonymous "Green Letter" box — near Room 110. Write a letter, seal it, drop it in. Ms Wang replies within two school days on the anonymous answer-board outside Room 110.

🚫 Three Things We Will NOT Do This Week

1. No public ranking, comparison or "best-student" wall in the classrooms or corridors.
2. No extra practice papers assigned by any subject teacher during the Rest Hour on Tuesday.
3. No "cheer-up" slogans that require students to say they are happy. If today is not a happy day, the week has no rule asking you to pretend.

📝 Small Rules of Kindness

- If a classmate is having a hard week, ask before you hug. A warm question is often kinder than a sudden touch.
- If you see a classmate crying quietly, do not take a photo; pass a paper tissue and sit nearby quietly, or find a teacher.
- Phones may not be used to photograph the yellow feeling cards. The wall is safe because it is anonymous. A single photo can end that.

🙋 Volunteer Roles (24 students)

- 6 card-wall helpers (Mon afternoon).
- 4 rest-room cushion tidiers (Tue).
- 6 step-and-talk walk starters (Wed, double session).
- 4 writing-prompt paper distributors (Thu).
- 4 thank-you circle facilitators (Fri).

> "A strong school is not one where no one ever feels tired, worried or small. A strong school is one where, when those feelings come — and they will — a student knows clearly where to go, who to talk to, and that none of it means she is weak. This week is a small map of those doors. Please use it, even if only once."
