参考范文

Last Saturday, our class went to a local nursing home as volunteers. We arrived at nine in the morning and stayed until noon.

During the visit, we chatted with the elderly and listened to their stories. Some classmates performed songs and dances, which made the whole room lively. I helped clean the bedrooms and served fruit to the grandparents. Their smiles made all our efforts worthwhile.

Although I was tired, I felt truly happy. This experience taught me that helping others brings happiness to ourselves as well. I hope to join more activities like this in the future.
