Teachers' Day is coming, and there is one teacher I want to thank most — my maths teacher, Ms Wang.

She is strict in class, which helps us develop good study habits. But after class, she is like a caring big sister. What moved me most was last term when I was ill and missed a whole week of lessons. She called me every evening to check on me and offered to give me extra lessons after school until I caught up.

Ms Wang, thank you for your kindness and patience. You have not only taught me maths, but also taught me to face challenges bravely. Happy Teachers' Day!
