中考英语完形填空：奶奶的拿手菜

完形填空原文

My grandmother makes the best braised pork in the world. At least, that is what everyone in my family 1. Every time we visit her, she makes this dish for us. The moment we walk through the door, the wonderful smell fills the whole house.

Grandma learned to cook from her own mother when she was just a little girl. In those days, life was not 2 and food was simple. But Grandma's mother always tried her best to make meals tasty. Grandma often says, "Good food does not need 3 ingredients. It needs love and patience."

Last Sunday, I asked Grandma to teach me her secret 4. She smiled and took me into the kitchen. "There's no real secret," she said. "The key is to cook it slowly over low heat for a long time." She showed me each step 5. We chose the best piece of pork, cut it into small pieces, and added soy sauce, sugar, ginger, and a little cooking wine.

Then came the hardest part — waiting. The pork had to cook slowly for almost two 6. I kept wanting to open the lid and check, but Grandma stopped me. "If you keep opening it, the heat will escape and the meat won't be 7 enough," she explained. So I sat in the living room and watched TV, though I kept looking at the kitchen clock.

Finally, the dish was ready. The pork was soft, shiny, and 8 coloured. I took a bite and closed my eyes. It was perfect. "You see," Grandma said, "the best things in life cannot be 9."

I wrote down every step in my notebook. One day, when I grow up, I want to make this dish for my own family and 10 this tradition to the next generation.
