中考英语完形填空：停电的夜晚

完形填空原文

It was a hot night in July. I was doing my homework when suddenly the lights went 1. The whole house became dark. I heard Mum call from the living room, "The power is out!" I felt a little scared in the darkness.

Dad found some candles and lit them. The soft candlelight filled the room. It was 2 from the bright electric lights we were used to. "Let us sit together and tell stories," Dad suggested. We all gathered around the small table. Mum told us a story about her 3 when she was a child. She said they did not have computers or mobile phones. Children played outside and read books for fun.

My younger brother asked, "What did you do when the 4 went out at night?" Grandma smiled and said they used oil lamps. "Sometimes we would just go to bed early and 5 about the stars." I had never thought about that. We were so busy with our phones and tablets that we almost forgot how beautiful a simple night could be.

Dad brought out his guitar. We sang songs together by the candlelight. The 6 was warm and happy. I realised we had not spent an evening like this for a long time. Usually everyone was in a different room, each looking at their own screen.

When the power came back two hours later, we were almost 7 to see the lights turn on. We had enjoyed the quiet time together so much. That night I learned something 8: sometimes we need to slow down and enjoy the simple things. A power cut might seem like bad luck, but it gave our family a 9 to be together without any distractions. I will always 10 that special evening.
