中考英语完形填空：雨后彩虹

完形填空原文

It had been raining all afternoon. I sat by the window and watched the drops fall on the glass. I felt a little bored and a bit 1. The sky was grey and the world outside looked dull. I had wanted to play basketball with my friends, but the rain had ruined our plans.

Then, around five o'clock, the rain began to stop. The clouds started to 2 and patches of blue sky appeared. I went outside and took a deep breath. The air smelled fresh — a mix of wet soil and grass. Everything looked cleaner and greener after the rain.

I looked up and there it was — a beautiful rainbow 3 across the sky. It had seven colours: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet. I had seen rainbows in books and photos before, but seeing one in real life was different. It was so 4 that I stood there for a long time, unable to look away.

I ran back inside to get my phone and take a photo. When I came back, the rainbow was starting to fade. I managed to take one picture before it disappeared completely. I felt 5 that I had caught it. Rainbows do not last long. They remind us that beautiful things can appear when we least expect them, and that they will not stay forever. We need to 6 the moment.

That evening, I thought about what the rainbow had taught me. After the grey rain, something wonderful had appeared. It made me think about life. Sometimes we go through difficult 7 — like the rain. But if we wait patiently, something good may come. The rainbow gave me hope. I decided not to feel sad about the cancelled basketball game. Instead, I would look forward to the next sunny day. And I would remember: after every storm, there can be a 8. That simple 9 has stayed with me ever since. When things get difficult, I try to stay 10 and believe that better days will come.
