中考英语完形填空：学吉他

完形填空原文

This summer I decided to learn to play the guitar. My cousin had been playing for a year and her music always sounded so 1. I wanted to be like her. My parents bought me a guitar as a birthday gift and found a teacher for me.

The first lesson was harder than I 2. My fingers hurt when I pressed the strings. The teacher said, "This is normal. Every beginner feels the same. You need to 3 and practise every day." I nodded and tried my best to remember the basic chords.

Week after week, I practised for at least half an hour every day. At first my fingers often made the wrong 4 and the music sounded terrible. But little by little, I could play a simple song. The first time I played "Happy Birthday" for my mum, she was so 5 that she gave me a big hug.

One day my teacher said, "You have made great progress. Would you like to play at the school concert next month?" I was nervous but excited. I practised the song 6 times until I could play it without mistakes. When the day came, I stood on the stage with my guitar. My hands were shaking at first, but when the music started, I 7 myself and played well.

After the concert, many classmates said they wanted to learn the guitar too. I felt proud and happy. Learning the guitar taught me that 8 is the key to success. Nothing is easy at the beginning, but if you keep trying, you will 9 your dreams. Now the guitar has become my best friend. When I feel tired or sad, I pick it up and play a few songs. Music always 10 my mood.
