中考英语完形填空：夏天的蝉鸣

完形填空原文

Every summer, the cicadas come. Their singing fills the trees and becomes the 1 of hot afternoons. When I was a child, I found the sound too loud and sometimes annoying. But now I have learned to love it. To me, it is the real sound of summer.

Cicadas spend most of their lives underground. They live there for several years, sometimes more than ten years. Then one day they come out, climb up a tree, and 2 their wings. For a few weeks, they sing as loud as they can. Then their short life above ground comes to an end. Knowing this, I feel that each cicada's song is special. They are 3 every moment they have.

Last summer, I was doing my homework by the window. The cicadas were singing outside. At first I could not 4. I closed the window to block the noise. But the room became too hot, so I had to open it again. Slowly, I began to listen. The sound was not just noise. It had a pattern — sometimes high, sometimes low, like a natural 5. I found it quite peaceful. My mind became calm and I finished my homework quickly.

One afternoon, I went for a walk in the park. I sat under a big tree and closed my eyes. The cicadas were everywhere. Their voices mixed with the wind in the leaves. I felt like I was in the middle of a summer 6. For the first time, I understood why some people love this sound. It connects us to nature. It reminds us that we are part of something bigger.

Summer will pass and the cicadas will 7. But their song will stay in my memory. When winter comes and everything is quiet, I will think of those hot afternoons. I will remember the sound that used to seem so 8. Now it brings me warm feelings. It tells me that summer will come again.

I hope that when I grow up, I will still have a place where I can hear the cicadas. Maybe I will take my children to listen to them one day. I will tell them the story of these small 9 and their short but wonderful life. The cicada's song is a gift. We should learn to 10 it before it is gone.
