中考英语完形填空：暑假打工体验

完形填空原文

This summer, I got my first part-time job at a small bookshop near my home. I wanted to earn some money to buy a new bicycle. The owner, Mr. Wang, was a kind man who agreed to 1 me for the holiday.

On my first day, I was very nervous. Mr. Wang showed me around and taught me how to help customers find books. I had to learn to 2 the books on the shelves and keep the shop tidy. At first, I made many mistakes. I put the wrong books in the wrong places and sometimes gave customers the wrong change. But Mr. Wang never got angry. He said, "Everyone needs time to learn. Just do your 3."

The job was not easy. I had to stand for many hours and my feet often hurt. Some customers were polite and said "thank you," but others were in a hurry and did not say much. I learned to stay 4 no matter what. A smile always helps.

After two weeks, I began to feel more confident. I could find any book quickly and I knew how to use the cash register. One day, a little girl came in looking for a storybook. She could not 5 which one to choose. I helped her pick one that was suitable for her age. When she left with a big smile, I felt really good. That was the best 6 of my job.

By the end of the summer, I had saved enough money for my bicycle. But I got something even more valuable — I learned what it means to work. I understand now that money does not come 7. My parents work hard every day to support our family. I will appreciate their efforts more from now on.

I plan to work at the bookshop again next summer. Mr. Wang said he would be happy to have me back. Working there was a 8 experience that I will never forget. It taught me responsibility, patience, and the joy of helping others.

If you have a chance to try a part-time job, I would 9 you to do it. You will learn a lot about yourself and the world. Just remember: every job, no matter how small, is worth doing 10.
