中考英语完形填空：学摄影

完形填空原文

My uncle is a photographer. He takes pictures for newspapers and magazines. This summer, he offered to teach me how to use a camera. I was very 1 because I had always wanted to learn photography.

On the first day, Uncle gave me an old camera and showed me the basics. "The most important thing is not the camera," he said. "It is the person behind it. You need to learn to 2 — really see what is around you." I nodded, but I did not quite understand what he meant then.

We went to the park to practice. Uncle told me to look for interesting things: the way light falls on leaves, the smile on a child's face, or a bird resting on a branch. At first, I just pointed my camera everywhere and took many photos. But when I looked at them later, most of them were 3. "You are taking too many pictures without thinking," Uncle said. "Slow down. Choose your subject carefully."

I tried again. This time I stood still and looked around for a long time. I noticed an old man sitting on a bench, feeding pigeons. The afternoon sun made his face look warm and kind. I lifted my camera, waited for the right moment, and pressed the button. When I showed Uncle the photo, he smiled. "Now you are 4," he said.

Over the next few weeks, we went to different places — the market, the river, and even my school. I learned about light, angles, and composition. I also learned that the best photos often capture moments that will never happen again. A baby's first laugh, a friend's surprise, or a sunset over the lake — these 5 are precious.

One day, I took a picture of my grandmother in her garden. She was watering her flowers and did not know I was there. The photo caught her natural smile. When I gave her a printed copy, she was so happy that she put it in a frame. That was when I understood what Uncle had said. Photography is not just about 6 pictures. It is about keeping beautiful moments and sharing them with the people we love.

I still have a lot to learn, but I enjoy every moment with my camera. Uncle says that everyone can learn the technical part, but what makes a good photographer is a 7 heart and curious eyes. I will keep practicing and one day I hope to take photos that can touch people's 8, just like Uncle's photos do.

If you are interested in photography, do not wait for a perfect camera. Start with what you have — even your phone. The best camera is the one you have with you. Remember:

the world is full of beauty. We just need to slow down and 9 it. Every moment can become a 10 memory if we learn to see it with our hearts.
