中考英语完形填空：开学前的准备

完形填空原文

The summer holiday was nearly over. In just one week, I would go back to school. My mother reminded me to start getting ready. "You cannot leave everything to the 1 minute," she said.

First, I checked my school bag. It was old and one of the straps was broken. My father took me to a shop and we picked a new one together. It was dark blue with a strong zip. I liked it very much because it had several 2 where I could put my books, pens, and water bottle separately.

Next, I went through my notebooks and textbooks from last term. Some of the notebooks were only half used, so I decided to 3 using them instead of buying new ones. This was a good way to save money and reduce waste. My mother was pleased with my decision.

Then I made a study plan for the new term. I wrote down the subjects I found 4 last year — maths and physics — and decided to spend more time on them. I also planned to preview each lesson before class so that I could follow the teacher more 5. I stuck the plan on the wall above my desk where I could see it every day.

My mother also suggested that I adjust my sleeping schedule. During the holiday, I often stayed up late and woke up after nine o'clock. But school starts at seven thirty, so I needed to go to bed 6 and get up early. The first few days were hard because my body was used to the holiday routine, but I managed to change step by step.

On the last day of the holiday, I laid out my school uniform, packed my bag, and sharpened my pencils. Everything was 7. I felt a mix of nervousness and excitement. A new term means new knowledge, new challenges, and new chances to 8.

Looking back, I am glad that I prepared early. Starting school without any rush made me feel calm and 9. I think good preparation is half the success. If you plan ahead, you will be ready for 10 comes your way.
