中考英语完形填空：雨天的足球赛

完形填空原文

Our school football team had been preparing for the district competition for two months. When the big day finally came, the weather was 1. Dark clouds covered the sky and rain began to fall just before the match started. Some of my teammates looked worried, but our coach said, "Rain or shine, we play."

The pitch was slippery and the ball was hard to 2. In the first ten minutes, I slipped twice and nearly fell. The other team was strong and fast. They scored the first goal in the fifteenth minute. Our spirits dropped, and during the break, nobody spoke.

Coach Wang gathered us in a circle. "Listen," he said, "the rain is the same for both teams. The team that 3 better to the conditions will win." His words were simple but powerful. We nodded and ran back onto the field with renewed energy.

In the second half, we changed our 4. Instead of trying long passes, we kept the ball close and made short, quick passes. This worked much better on the wet ground. Slowly, we began to control the game. In the fifty-fifth minute, my friend Xiao Chen got the ball near the goal and kicked it hard. The goalkeeper 5, but the ball went in. We were tied at 1-1!

The crowd cheered loudly. I could see my parents in the stands, clapping and shouting. Their support gave us extra 6. We pushed forward even harder. With only five minutes left, I received a pass on the right side. I looked up and saw a gap between two defenders. Without thinking, I kicked the ball with all my strength. It curved through the air and flew into the 7 corner of the goal. 2-1!

The final whistle blew moments later. We had won! My teammates rushed towards me, and we fell into a muddy pile, laughing and crying at the same time. Coach Wang ran over and hugged us all. "I am so 8 of you," he said.

That rainy afternoon taught me an important lesson. Difficult conditions do not decide the result — your 9 does. We could have given up when the weather turned bad and we fell behind. But we chose to fight. And in the end, we proved that hard work and teamwork can 10 any challenge.
