中考英语完形填空：去书店买书

完形填空原文

Yesterday afternoon, I went to the new bookstore in the shopping mall with my best friend Lin Hui. We both love reading, and we had been 1 to visit this bookstore since it opened last month.

The bookstore was on the third floor. As soon as we entered, we were amazed by the number of books. There were shelves from floor to ceiling, filled with books of every 2. The smell of new books made us feel excited.

We decided to look for books in different sections. Lin Hui wanted to find a science fiction novel, while I was looking for a book about history. We agreed to meet at the checkout counter in one 3.

I walked slowly along the history section. There were so many interesting titles that I did not know which one to 4. Finally, I picked up a book about ancient China. I read the introduction on the back cover. It seemed perfect for my summer reading project.

When I looked at my watch, forty minutes had already passed. I hurried to the checkout counter. Lin Hui was already there, waiting with two books in her hands. "I found a great science fiction story and a collection of short 5," she said. "I could not decide between them, so I bought both."

We went to the coffee corner inside the bookstore. It had comfortable chairs and a quiet atmosphere. We ordered two cups of hot chocolate and 6 our new books. Lin Hui read the first chapter of her novel aloud. I listened and could already imagine the exciting story.

Before we left, we each got a membership card. The staff said that members could get a 10% 7 on all books. "We should come here every month," Lin Hui said. I agreed. A bookstore is much better than staring at a phone screen all day.

I spent sixty yuan on my history book. My parents had given me some pocket money for the summer, and I thought buying books was a good way to 8 it. Reading not only brings knowledge but also helps us relax after a busy day at school.

When I got home, I put the new book on my bedside table. I planned to read at least twenty 9 every night before sleep. My mother was happy to see my new book. She said she was proud that I chose to spend my time in a useful 10.
